STAFF CORNER

It has been just six weeks since Davin announced his decision to leave the principal position at HMS School. In that short time, Davin has been selected as full-time principal at Shenandoah Valley Adventist Elementary in Virginia and the HMS School Board has selected the next HMS Principal.

And so, it is with excitement that the School Board is pleased to introducing Paul Bragaw as the next HMS School Principal. The School Board together with the conference has carefully and prayerfully reviewed a significant number of resumes that represented a wide range of qualified principals and teachers. Some of the key characteristics that were envisioned at the beginning of this search process were a strong spiritual leader, a clear vision for the future advancement of HMS and the ability to work effectively with Campion Church and Academy. Paul fits these and many other characteristics that the board was searching for. We all know Paul as an exceptional teacher; a dedicated Christian and a caring friend. Paul's experience and commitment is evidenced through his 36 years of teaching. Eleven of those years he served as principal.

The transition for Paul from teacher to principal will take place officially on July 1, 2019. However, some transitions will begin immediately as Paul, together with the board and you – the constituents of HMS - begin to vision for next school year and the years to come. Davin will continue as principal to manage the day-to-day activities of the school until the official transition. Please encourage and prayerfully support both of these men as they make this significant transition. When Paul assumes his new role as principal he will also continue as the 5th-6th grade teacher. That means the 7th-8th grade teacher position is still open. Over the next few days the personnel committee and board will meet to review the top 7th-8th grade teacher applicants and conduct follow-up interviews. A final decision is expected within a couple of weeks.

Your continued prayers for God's guidance and blessing on HMS School will be appreciated.

HMS School Board Chairman
